This program was written by people who were once considered hopeless alcoholics and drug addicts. After struggling to control their addictions, the authors have recovered permanently and have incorporated their experiences into a series of clear-cut programs that help lead people out of addiction and into a happy, successful, brighter future. The Jude Thaddeus Home Recovery program is an alternative to 12 Step treatment programs. The program was born out of extensive research into current and past treatment methodologies, the failures and successes and provides a proven method of achieving happiness in sobriety without 12 step meetings or treatment programs.
