Twenty-Six Sermons on Various Subjects (Classic Reprint) William Beveridge

Chronologicge, an elementary work on chronology, published in 1669, and dedicated to the then bishop of London, Dr. Henchman. In November, 1672, he resigned the vicarage of Ealing, on being chosen rector of St. Peter s, Cornhill, London, by the Lord layor and Aldermen of that city. In this -wider and more conspicuous field of pastoral labour he exercised the various functions of his office with exemplary zeal; and the signal success that attended his ministrations as a parish priest attests the earnestness and assiduity with which he performed them, and justifies the eulogy which has styled him the great restorer and reviver of primitive piety. Among the fruits of his learning and piety, may be reckoned his excellent Sermons, from which the following Selection has been made. In December, 1674, he was collated by bishop Henchman to the prebend of Chiswick, in the cathedral of St. Paul; and in November, 1681, he was made archdeacon of Colchester by bishop Compton, who had succeeded Dr. Henchman in the see of London. In November, 1684, he was installed prebendary of Canterbury. Shortly afterwards he became associated with Dr. Horneck in directing the religious societies which began to be formed in London in the reio-n of James II., and which contributed to the diffusion of religious knowledge and piety both in the metropolis and in the provinces. From these associations two permanent offshoots have originated: the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, and the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts.
