Supermarket Sarah Wonder Walls: A Guide to Displaying Your Stuff! Sarah Bagner

You are your stuff! This book is about embracing everything you own and showing it off on your walls. Whatever your taste, it's about celebrating the beautiful, the eccentric, the simple. In a world where trends and styles are dictated to us, Sarah Bagner, better known as Supermarket Sarah, encourages readers to believe in their own styles and ideas. Here Sarah travels the globe, visiting cosmopolitan locations in Tokyo, London and Stockholm, offering up inspiration and variety as she illustrates novel ways in which people use their own walls to display themselves and their "treasures." She visits the homes and studios of designers and collectors, viewing the displays of minimalists and hoarders. The walls range from the quirky to the romantic, from vintage to brand new. Whatever is displayed, and however it is displayed, everything has a meaning for its owner. From collections of supermarket receipts, records and toys, to chandeliers and antlers, whatever it may be, Sarah loves a story. Items only have the value that you put on them and Wonder Walls explores the ideas and thoughts behind people's objects and why these objects, when adorning a wall, help us discover ourselves. The walls featured here are all revealing, amusing and thought-provoking, and will inspire you to look at your own collections with a fresh eye.

Kimberly Duda:

As a pupil exactly feel bored to reading. If their teacher asked them to go to the library in order to make summary for some publication, they are complained. Just very little students that has reading's heart and soul or real their passion. They just do what the educator want, like asked to go to the library. They go to generally there but nothing reading critically. Any students feel that reading is not important, boring as well as can't see colorful pics on there. Yeah, it is to get complicated. Book is very important for you. As we know that on this period of time, many ways to get whatever we would like. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. So , this Supermarket Sarah Wonder Walls: A Guide to Displaying Your Stuff! can make you feel more interested to read.
